FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ridgetop Group, Inc. Joins EDGE® Innovation Network

TUCSON, Ariz.—March 28, 2011

Ridgetop Group, Inc., announced today it has joined the EDGE® Innovation Network, a collaborative, open-environment initiative enabling industry and academia, with government input, to work together to enhance the delivery cycle of new technologies and innovative capabilities to warfighters and first responders.

Ridgetop Group's Government Business Development Manager Sonia Vohnout said, "Ridgetop is excited to be a member of the EDGE. It provides the perfect environment for our company to demonstrate our electronic health management solutions as well as facilitate a faster and smoother insertion into existing and future programs of record."

Pete Palmer, EDGE Innovation Network director, said, "The EDGE provides a new military and government acquisition paradigm by using both physical and virtual environments where EDGE members and users can collaborate and innovate together to deliver gap-filling capabilities in months rather than years."

Sponsored by General Dynamics C4 Systems, there are seven EDGE Innovation Centers worldwide and over 180 EDGE members. Recent new members include General Dynamics Land Systems, Sterling Heights, Mich.; Raytheon BBN Technologies Corp., Cambridge, Mass.; WindTamer Corp., Rochester, N.Y.; Information Is Power, Houston, Texas; and Sherborne Sensors., Wyckoff, N.J. More information can be found online at www.edge-innovation.com.
